A SURPRISING CASE.

Mr. Alex. W. Harris, a prominent lawyer at No. 1005 G st. n. w., Washington, D. C., under date of Jan. 11th, 1890, wrote to the A. B. C. Chemical Co., Richmond, Va., giving the history of a case of skin eruption of 10 years' standing the result of malignant blood disease. (At this time Mr. Harris had been unable to walk for six months.) In reply he was directed to use A. B. C. Alternative with the assurance that he would be cured. March 1st, 1890, Mr. Harris again wrote the A. B. C. Chemical Co. in the following words: "The improvement in my case so far is almost miraculous. I am really getting well, and can walk as well as I ever could, and my general health was never better. I shall write you from time to time. Meantime you can refer any one to me you desire, and I shall certainly tell them that the A. B. C. Alternative has done me more good in two months than has 20 years' experience with various eminent physicians and all other remedies tried." Under date of April 7th, 1890, Mr. Harris wrote, "I am entirely well."

The End of a Romance.
The death of Thomas P. Murphy, at the Carney Hospital, Boston, on Sunday, mention of which was made in yesterday's GAZETTE, closes a romance of real life which has rarely been equalled except in novels. It was his elopement in 1879 with Lady Blanche Elizabeth Mary Annandale, daughter of the proud Earl of Gainsborough, and granddaughter of the seventeenth Earl of Erol, that first brought his name into prominence, and made him the hero in a tragedy in real life. Lady Blanche was brought up in the luxury belonging to one of England's proudest peers, but she forsook wealth, station, and home for love's sake, and died in exile and poverty in a strange land. She was the first born of the Earl of Gainsborough, and was a most beautiful woman. Young Murphy was a resident in the private chapel of the Earl of Gainsborough, and was dependent upon his slender income from that source. He was handsome and accomplished, and easily won Lady Blanche's love while he was instructing her in music.
When the haughty old Earl was informed of the betrothal he would not listen to such trash as he termed it, and it was not until he discovered his daughter's flight with his heirloom that he realized the truth. The eloping couple were secretly married and then asked forgiveness, but the Earl would not look upon his daughter's face until he saw her in her coffin after twelve years of suffering and hardship. He had disinherited her, but repented when too late.
Young Murphy took his bride to London but soon came to America. They could not live in England, for the story of their elopement was in everybody's mouth. They landed in New York poor, proud, and friendless. They tried one thing and then another. The husband essayed to teach, and the wife sought to add to their scanty income by writing. The signature of "Lady Blanche Murphy" attracted attention, as it appeared beneath articles in the newspapers and magazines.
In some way the old Earl heard of his daughter's hardship, and he so far relented as to send some financial assistance. She became disenchanted with New York, and with her husband, moved to North Conway, N. H., where they hoped to find the quiet and freedom they could not obtain in a great city. They built a house a short distance from the village out of the money sent by her father, and there they spent the remaining years of her life. She engaged in artistic pursuits, while her husband tilled the farm week days, and on Sundays played the organ at the Episcopal Church.
Lady Blanche died about eight years ago, after twelve years of married life, in which she was not known to have uttered a complaint. A cablegram was sent to the Earl of Gainsborough, and his answer was: "Send her home to me and let me look on her face once more." The body was carried to Portland and thence to England. The Earl had forgiven his daughter, but he would not forgive the man who had won her love. Mr. Murphy remained on his lonely farm after the departure of his wife's body until a short time ago, when he was stricken down with typhoid fever. Friends secured his admission to the Carney Hospital, and there on Sunday the final act in this romance came to a close. He was buried yesterday.

MEDICINAL.

DR. J. C. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

Nothing like it
Its peculiar efficacy is due as much to the process and skill in compounding as to the ingredients themselves. Take it in time. It checks diseases in the outset, or if they are advanced will prove a potent cure.

No Home should be Without It.
It takes the place of a doctor and costly prescriptions. All who lead sedentary lives will find it the best preventive of and cure for Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Piles and Mental Depression. No loss of time, no interference with business while taking. For children it is most innocent and harmless. No danger from exposure after taking. Cures Colic, Diarrhoea, Bowel Complaints, Feverishness and Nervousness. It is the mildest and most effective medicine they can use. A little taken at night insures refreshing sleep and a natural evacuation of the bowels. A little taken in the morning sharpens the appetite, cleanses the stomach and sweetens the breath.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.
"I have been practicing medicine for twenty years and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons' Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the liver to action, and at the same time aid instead of weaken the digestive and assimilative powers of the system."
L. M. HENSON, M.D., Washington, Ark.
Beware of cheap imitations. Look for the Trade-Mark on front of Wrapper, and the Real and Signature of J. C. Simmons & Co., in red, on the side. Take no other.

CHINAWARE, &c.
A CARD—We are aware that a number of Alexandrians go to Washington for their CHINA and GLASSWARE, and we believe that with the proper effort and attention all or nearly all of these people can be induced to buy goods in these lines at home. We intend therefore to do all in our power to further this end, and for this purpose we have selected our stock for fall with more than usual care and foresight. Our retail department, besides, we put under the special care of an salesman, and it will be his duty to see that the stock is always full, and to attend to the wants of our Alexandria customers. We only keep "firsts" (goods selected by the manufacturer as perfect), and we buy only from the manufacturer. For this reason, we can sell you not only the best goods, but at the very lowest prices. In fine French china, we will order any of Haviland's patterns at a very reasonable price. If you find that our efforts may be rewarded, and thanking you for past kindness, we are truly yours,
sep27 E. J. MILLER & SON.

HANDSOME FLINT GLASSWARE.
We have just received from Messrs. Hobbs & Co., manufacturers of pure Flint Glassware, an entirely new line of their goods, which you will not find at any other house in this city, and which we invite you to call and examine. Here are some of the articles:
Leaf Pickle, Olivo and Culver Dishes.
Water Butler, Cassup Cruet, Broad Trays, Sherbert Glasses (entirely new), Chesse Dishes, Fruit and Punch Bowls.
These goods will take as high a polish as cut glass, and so good is the imitation that few can tell the real from the hint. We shall be pleased to show you this line whenever you wish to purchase or not. [sep27] E. J. MILLER & SON.

AN INCREASE IN THE TARIFF—Notwithstanding the tariff has been advanced 10 to 15 per cent. on all ENGLISH GRANITE and PORCELAN, we continue to sell these wares at the old price, and you will do well to look at those Decorated Dinner Sets and Chamber Sets that we are selling at the old figures. We thought we had enough English Porcelain Dinner Sets to last until Christmas, and yet they are nearly all gone, and we have another order at Hensley, England, to be filled at once. See these goods, and get the prices, and find out how much you will save by not going to Washington.
sep27 E. J. MILLER & SON.

TO ARRIVE—A carload of Lamp Chimneys. Dealers will do well to put in their stock now, as an advance in Chimneys is expected daily. We are headquarters for all grades of chimneys. And remember that we are not agents in Northern Virginia, for the Celebrated "Pearl Glass" Chimney. [sep27] E. J. MILLER & SON.
